Reading a textbook chapter front to back ensures that you will waste time. I know it's counter-intuitive to not read a book front to back, but don't do it. Mystery novels stink when you read the back first, as do good thriller movies. If you read the last page of a Sherlock Holmes novel before you read the story, it'll be lame.

4 Steps to Reading a Textbook Quickly and Effectively

When you read a chapter in a textbook from beginning to end, it's easy to get swept away in a sea of details and overlook the main ideas. If you're short on time, you might not even be able to make it through the entire chapter. By creating an outline, you'll be sifting through the information strategically and efficiently.

A chapter book is a story book intended for intermediate readers, generally age 7-10. Unlike picture books for younger readers, a chapter book tells the story primarily through prose, rather than pictures. Unlike books for older readers, chapter books contain plentiful illustrations. The name refers to the fact that the stories are usually divided into short chapters, which provide children with opportunities to stop and resume reading if their attention spans are not long enough to finish ...
