The Road Home Rose Tremain

The Road Home Rose Tremain P.406 "In Lev's kitchen - his adored domain - the gas flames burned an obedient blue, leaped to yellow on sudden, triumphant command; the salamanders glowed and shimmered to violent vulcan red. And the sight of all this rainbow heat could often wake in Lev a feeling of joy as absolute as anything he'd ever felt.

follows Eastern European migrant Lev as he tries to make a life for himself in London. Tremain is one of Britain's most prominent living novelists, best known for 1989's Restoration. The Road Home was awarded the 2008 Orange Prize for Fiction.

The Road Home Summary | SuperSummary

One could call Rose Tremain's splendid new novel, The Road Home—which won Britain's prestigious Orange Prize for Fiction in June—a novel of globalization, in so far as it tells a timely story of 21st-century immigration in multicultural London. But such a designation would fall far short of capturing the magic of Tremain's subtle and sensitive portrait of a hopeful, hardworking, fundamentally good man trying to get a foothold in an often hostile foreign land.
